SECURITY FENCING PANELS

DRAMEX®

FENCING PANELS

DRAMEX security fencing panels help deter all intrusion risks. The panels are made of expanded high strength carbon or stainless steel. DRAMEX security fencing panels provide a higher level of security than conventional wire or chain link fencing. The diamond security mesh is configured in a way which makes it very difficult to climb and cutting is time consuming as each angled strand must be cut to create an opening. The rough edges on the panels become very sharp assuring maximum security.
